

TDP Template

Introduction

The Technical Data Package (TDP) is generated based on a configured Excel template that includes multiple worksheets. Each worksheet contains columns mapped to properties from ItemTypes, RelationshipTypes, and Files, ensuring structured and comprehensive data representation. Only one TDP template item can be associated with a specific ItemType, maintaining a clear and consistent configuration. However, each TDP template can include multiple Excel files, allowing flexibility in how data is organized and presented within the package.

