

Pipeline Retention Policy

The pipeline retention policy defines how long Azure DevOps keeps pipeline files before deleting them. To fully recreate a deployed Aras Innovator instance, the user needs to retain both the CI and DeployInnovator pipeline runs. By default, Azure Pipelines keeps only the three most recent runs for the development, SIT, UAT, staging, and production branches.

Any runs beyond these defaults must be manually marked for retention by the user:

