

Implementing a Query Processor

Important

Implementing a Query Processor requires knowledge of software development in .Net – specifically C#, IOM, XML and XML Processing, Query Definitions, and the data model (ItemTypes) used by the targeted implementation. As such, creating a custom Query Processor is a highly technical undertaking and should only be performed by competent users. This section is written assuming this level of knowledge.

